Hi. suddenly, we're done with my earliest project. There were times I had doubts about if we could keep it up, but luckily, a bunch of good people were there for me. Looking back, it was a good series. I would probably go about a bunch of things differently looking from the perspective of the time and experience, but I hope I didn't make any terrible mistakes. I want to say only one thing at the end - Pamela underwear is srsfknbsns.

I want to thank everyone involved not only in this volume, but in all of the project. All the donors, for their interest and patience, it was fun translating for you - anonymous, Kirindas, Narmia, Sudz, Zathael. My dear proofreader AFro Thunda for his help, time, and patience (a different kind). Lan, who proved to be really helpful back in the day, when I started translating with his proofreading and advice. As well as a few people who took the time to quality check the previous volumes: Alteraggo, Chaosrains I shouldn't forget about Kuropon, who was kind enough to scan the second volume for us.

And thanks to all my readers and people who took the time to comment on my blog

Thank you all
